

Germanic language Intercomprehension

English, German, Dutch, Danish, Swedish, Norwegian

The University of Florence's Language Center is offering a free

intensive summer BIP course in Florence

June 13 - 21, 2024

taught by Jessica Thonn & Petra Brunnhuber

What will I learn?

The basics of the main Germanic languages: reading (A2/B1 level) and listening (A1/A2). Also, proficiency in interacting with people whose language you do not speak.

Where is it?

Online (3 hours), then in Florence (27 hours).

What are the lessons like?

The course is mainly in English and German (if participants know it). Every day, a different mother-tongue specialist explains their Germanic language, its history and culture. Activities include short readings and listenings, videos, songs, comparative grammar and vocabulary, as well as interacting exercises. Teachers and participants are from around Europe.

Do I need to know other languages?

English B2; B1 in another Germanic tongue.

Why should I take it?

To more easily interact with English, German, Dutch, Danish, Swedish, and Norwegian speakers. To travel, study and work around Europe. To meet people from c. 10 countries. To get a microcredit.

How can I enroll?

Write to corsi@cla.unifi.it Enrollment closes on April 1st. Only 20 places are available.

Culture trips?

Optional guided tours will take place in and around Florence.

What about travel costs?

Ask your university for Erasmus+ funds for travel & hotel.

What is Intercomprehension?

Intercomprehension (IC) is a form of multilingual kommunikasjon in which each Person uses their own language.

To kommunisere successfully requires both specific interactive Strategien and some familiarity with the other language.

The CLA offers two IC courses: one for Romance languages and one for the germanska familie. An IC course does not replace a kurs dedicated to a single språk, but it will provide you with teknikker for learning any språk, and interaction Strategien, so you can more successfully communicate in any foreign språk.

Germanic Intercomprehension

In this kurs you will both leer to use the IC Strategien and gain reading and listening kompetence (A2/B1) in the 6 germanska languages covered:

English, German, Norwegian, Swedish, Danish and Dutch.

The course's main language is Englisch (and German, depending on the language ability of the participants). To take the kurs you should be able to kommunisere in English and be at least a B1 of another Germanic language; also, please join if you are a native or proficient user of any germanska tongue. The more languages the better!

What happens in the lessons?

During each klas you will work simultaneously with different Sprachen, looking for similarities. In each lektion students will have simple written teksten or Video-/ Audiomaterial from 1-4 Sprachen. You will locate familiar terms in the teksten, uncover the different spelling correspondencies across the Sprachen, and compare the various grammatikstrukturer. During the videoer and conversations you will practice the IC kommunikativ Strategien. Our language specialisten will do Aktivitäten, sharing both their linguistic and kulturell expertise. Klas Aktivitäten will also inkludere videoer, games, and songs, in 6 Sprachen - just like you are doing now!
